1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of Presentation

The accompanying condensed consolidated financial statements of Reed's, Inc. (the "Company", "we", "us", or "our"), have been prepared in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("U.S. GAAP") and the applicable rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC") regarding interim financial reporting. Certain information and note disclosures normally included in the financial statements prepared in accordance with U.S. GAAP have been condensed or omitted pursuant to such rules and regulations. The Company believes that the disclosures contained in these condensed consolidated financial statements are adequate to make the information presented herein not misleading. These condensed consolidated financial statements should be read in conjunction with the financial statements contained in the 2025 Form 10-K. The accompanying condensed consolidated financial statements are unaudited, but in the opinion of management, contain all adjustments, including normal recurring adjustments, necessary to present fairly the Company's financial position as of September 30, 2026, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the nine months ended September 30, 2026 and 2025. The balance sheet as of December 31, 2025 is derived from the Company's audited financial statements.

During the year ended December 31, 2025, the Company began an expansion into new geographic markets in the Asia Pacific region. The Company formed a wholly owned subsidiary Reed's (Asia) Limited (BVI). Reed's (Asia) Limited subsequently formed five additional wholly owned subsidiaries, Reed's (Hong Kong) Limited, Reed's (Japan) Limited, Jiangzhi Beverage (Hainan) Co. Limited, Reed's Beverages (Singapore) PTE Limited, and Shenshen Jiangzi Beverage Co. Limited. These subsidiaries are an early part of the Company's strategic expansion in the Asia Pacific region. The Company expects continued investment in its Asia Pacific growth initiative. Reed's (Asia) Limited did not generate material sales in the period ended September 30, 2026 or 2025.

The results of operations for the nine months ended September 30, 2026, are not necessarily indicative of the results of operations to be expected for the full fiscal year ending December 31, 2026.

Going Concern

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared on a going concern basis, which contemplates the realization of assets and the settlement of liabilities and commitments in the normal course of business. For the nine months ended September 30, 2026, the Company recorded a net loss of $13,907, used cash in operations of $8,329, and as of September 30, 2026, had a stockholders' deficiency of $4,655. As of September 30, 2026, the Company had a cash balance of $2,095, principal amount outstanding on the Senior Secured Loan of $9,250, no remaining availability under the Senior Secured Loan, and a maturity date on the Senior Secured Loan of June 30, 2027.

On September 30, 2026, the Company entered into a Second Amended Loan Agreement (see Note 6 Senior Secured Loan).

On November 6, 2026, the Company entered into a Third Amended Loan Agreement (see Note 6 Senior Secured Loan).

On November 9, 2026, the Company completed a private placement with D&D Source of Life Holding, Ltd. ("D&D"), the Company's majority stockholder (a related party), as sole investor, pursuant to which the Company issued and sold an aggregate of 17,421,602 shares of common stock for total gross proceeds of $10,000 (see Note 13 Subsequent Events).

In accordance with Accounting Standards Codification ("ASC") 205-40, Going Concern, these factors, considered in the aggregate, raise substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern within one year of the date that the financial statements are issued. The financial statements do not include any adjustments related to the recoverability and classification of recorded asset amounts or the amounts and classification of liabilities that might be necessary should the Company be unable to continue as a going concern

Historically, the Company has financed its operations through existing cash balances, cash generated from operations, public and private issuance of common stock, preferred stock, convertible debt instruments, term loans and credit lines from financial institutions.

To alleviate any funding considerations, management periodically evaluates various funding alternatives and may seek to raise additional funds through the issuance of equity, mezzanine or debt securities, through arrangements with strategic partners, strategic transactions, or through obtaining credit from financial institutions. As the Company seeks additional sources of financing, there can be no assurance that such financing will be available to the Company on favorable terms or at all. The Company's ability to obtain additional financing in the debt and equity capital markets is subject to several factors, including market and economic conditions, the Company's performance and investor sentiment with respect to the Company and its industry.

The Company is also continuing to take actions to improve operating performance and cash generated from operations, including product portfolio optimization, implementing strategies to achieve profitable sales growth, streamlining operations, improving supply chains, negotiating equitable vendor contracts, and managing product price architecture. However, the Company may be unsuccessful in executing these actions in a timely manner or at all.

If the Company is unable to raise additional capital whenever necessary or otherwise improve its operating performance or generation of cash from operations, it may be forced to decelerate or curtail certain of its operations until such time as additional capital becomes available.

Recent Trends - Market Conditions

Inflation, actions by the Federal Reserve to address inflation, fluctuations in energy prices, and the potential impacts of tariffs, trade tensions and geopolitical events create uncertainty about the future economic environment which will continue to evolve and may impact the Company's business in future periods. The Company has experienced supply chain challenges, including increased lead times, as well as inflation of raw materials, logistics and labor costs due to availability constraints and high demand. Although the Company regularly monitors vendors in its supply chain, and uses alternative suppliers when necessary and available, supply chain constraints could cause a disruption in the Company's ability to obtain raw materials required to manufacture its products and adversely affect its operations.

Consolidation and Basis of Presentation

The accompanying consolidated financial statements and notes have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles U.S. GAAP. The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of Reed's Inc. and its wholly owned subsidiary Reed's (Asia) Limited (BVI). Reed's (Asia) Limited subsequently formed five additional wholly owned subsidiaries, Reed's (Hong Kong) Limited, Reed's (Japan) Limited, Jiangzhi Beverage (Hainan) Co. Limited, Reed's Beverages (Singapore) PTE Limited, and Shenshen Jiangzi Beverage Co. Limited. All significant intercompany balances and transactions have been eliminated in consolidation.

2. Significant Accounting Policies

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with U.S. GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements, and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates. Those estimates and assumptions include estimates for credit loss reserves for accounts receivable, assumptions used in valuing inventories at net realizable value, impairment testing of recorded long-term tangible and intangible assets, the realizability of deferred tax assets and the related valuation allowance, accruals for potential liabilities, assumptions made in valuing stock instruments issued for services, and assumptions used in the determination of the Company's liquidity.

Revenue Recognition

The Company recognizes revenue in accordance with ASC 606, Revenue from Contracts with Customers ("ASC 606"). Revenue and costs of sales are recognized when control of the products transfers to the Company's customer, which generally occurs upon shipment from the Company's facilities. The Company's performance obligations are satisfied at that time. The Company does not have any significant contracts with customers requiring performance beyond delivery, and contracts with customers contain no incentives or discounts that could cause revenue to be allocated or adjusted over time. Shipping and handling activities are performed before the customer obtains control of the goods and therefore represent a fulfillment activity rather than a promised service to the customer. All of the Company's products are offered for sale as finished goods only, and there are no performance obligations required post-shipment for customers to derive the expected value from them.

The Company does not allow for returns, except for damaged products when the damage occurred pre-fulfillment. Damaged product returns have historically been insignificant. Because of this, the stand-alone nature of the Company's products, and the Company's assessment of performance obligations and transaction pricing for its sales contracts, the Company does not currently maintain a contract asset or liability balance for obligations. The Company assesses its contracts and the reasonableness of its conclusions on a quarterly basis.

Loss per Common Share

Basic earnings (loss) per share is computed by dividing the net income (loss) applicable to common stockholders by the weighted average number of shares of common stock outstanding during the period. Diluted earnings (loss) per share is computed by dividing the net income (loss) applicable to common stockholders by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding plus the number of additional common shares that would have been outstanding if all dilutive potential common shares had been issued, using the treasury stock method. Potential common shares are excluded from the computation when their effect is antidilutive.

For the nine months ended September 30, 2026 and 2025, the calculations of basic and diluted loss per share are the same because potential dilutive securities would have had an antidilutive effect. The potentially dilutive securities consisted of the following:

	September 30, 2026	September 30, 2025
Warrants	2,910,991	91,549
Options	24,464	47,072
Common stock equivalent of Series A Convertible Preferred stock	125	125
Total	2,935,580	138,746

Stock Compensation Expense

The Company periodically issues stock options and restricted stock awards to employees and non-employees in non-capital raising transactions for services and for financing costs. The Company accounts for such grants issued and vesting based on ASC 718, Compensation-Stock Compensation whereby the value of the award is measured on the date of grant and recognized for employees as compensation expense on the straight-line basis over the vesting period. Recognition of compensation expense for non-employees is in the same period and manner as if the Company had paid cash for the services.

The fair value of the Company's stock options is estimated using the Black-Scholes-Merton Option Pricing model, which uses certain assumptions related to risk-free interest rates, expected volatility, expected life of the stock options or restricted stock, and future dividends. Compensation expense is recorded based upon the value derived from the Black-Scholes-Merton Option Pricing model and based on actual experience. The assumptions used in the Black-Scholes-Merton Option Pricing model could materially affect compensation expense recorded in future periods.

Advertising Costs

Advertising costs are expensed as incurred and are included in selling and marketing expense. Advertising costs for the three months ended September 30, 2026, and 2025, aggregated $77 and $50, respectively. Advertising costs for the nine months ended September 30, 2026, and 2025, aggregated $688 and $98, respectively.

Concentrations

Net sales. During the three months ended September 30, 2026, three customers accounted for 20%, 15%, and 14% of net billing, respectively, and during the nine months ended September 30, 2026, three customers accounted for 20%, 16%, and 15% of net billing, respectively. During the three months ended September 30, 2025, two customers accounted for 24% and 16% of net sales, respectively, and during the nine months ended September 30, 2025, three customers accounted for 20%, 15%, and 14% of net sales, respectively. No other customers exceeded 10% of sales in either period.

Accounts receivable. As of September 30, 2026, the Company had accounts receivable from four customers which comprised 22%, 21%, 16%, and 14% of its net accounts receivable, respectively. As of December 31, 2025, the Company had accounts receivable from three customers which comprised 35%, 24% and 11% of its net accounts receivable, respectively. No other customers exceeded 10% of net accounts receivable in either period.

The Company utilizes co-packers to produce 100% of its products. During the nine months ended September 30, 2026 and the year ended December 31, 2025, the Company utilized seven separate co-packers for most of its production and bottling of beverage products in the United States. The Company has established relationships with these co-packers. Although there are other co-packers available to the Company, a change in co-packers may cause a delay in the production process, which could adversely affect operating results.

Purchases from vendors. During the nine months ended September 30, 2026, the Company's largest two vendors accounted for approximately 11% and 10% of all purchases. During the nine months ended September 30, 2025, the Company's largest vendor accounted for approximately 15% of all purchases. No other vendors exceeded 10% of all purchases in either period.

Accounts payable. As of September 30, 2026, one vendor accounted for 12% of total accounts payable. As of December 31, 2025, no vendor accounted for more than 10% of total accounts payable. No other vendors exceeded 10% of accounts payable in either period.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

The Company uses various inputs in determining the fair value of its financial assets and liabilities and measures these assets on a recurring basis. Financial assets recorded at fair value are categorized by the level of subjectivity associated with the inputs used to measure their fair value. ASC Section 820 defines the following levels of subjectivity associated with the inputs:

Level 1—Quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.
Level 2—Inputs, other than the quoted prices in active markets, that are observable either directly or indirectly.
Level 3—Unobservable inputs in which there is little or no market data for the asset or liability which requires the Company to develop its own assumptions.

The Company believes the carrying amounts of certain financial instruments, including cash, accounts receivable, short-term bank loans, accounts payable, senior secured loan, and other payables, approximate their fair values because of the short-term nature of such instruments. The carrying values of lease liabilities and long-term financing obligations approximate their fair values because interest rates on these obligations are based on prevailing market interest rates.

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

The following discussion and analysis of our financial condition and results of operations should be read in conjunction with our financial statements and the related notes appearing elsewhere in this report.

In addition to our United States generally accepted accounting principles ("U.S. GAAP") results, the following discussion includes EBITDA as a supplemental measure of our performance. We present EBITDA because we believe it assists investors and analysts in comparing our performance across reporting periods on a consistent basis by excluding items that we do not believe are indicative of our core operating performance. In addition, we use EBITDA in developing our internal budgets, forecasts, and strategic plan; in analyzing the effectiveness of our business strategies in evaluating potential acquisitions; making compensation decisions; and in communications with our board of directors concerning our financial performance. EBITDA is not a recognized measurement under U.S. GAAP and should not be considered as an alternative to net income, income from operations or any other performance measure derived in accordance with U.S. GAAP, or as an alternative to cash flow from operating activities as a measure of liquidity. We define EBITDA as net income (loss), plus interest expense, tax expense, and depreciation and amortization.

The following discussion also includes the use of gross billing, a key performance indicator and metric. Gross billing represents invoiced amounts to distributors and retailers, excluding sales adjustments. Gross billing may include deductions from MSRP or "list price," where applicable, and excludes promotional costs of generating such sales. Management utilizes gross billing to monitor operating performance of products and salespersons, which performance can be masked by the effect of promotional or other allowances. Management believes that the presentation of gross billing provides a useful measure of Reed's operating performance.

Amounts presented in the discussion below are in thousands, except share and per share amounts.

Results of Operations

Overview

During the nine months ended September 30, 2026, the Company continued its focus on achieving profitable sales growth, improving gross margin, reducing freight costs, and optimizing selling, general and administrative expenses. The sales growth initiatives include improved sales execution, in-store promotions, product placements, and merchandising, channel expansion, and new product innovation. The gross margin enhancement initiatives include product portfolio optimization, equitable supplier negotiations, streamlining co-packer processes, and efficient inventory management. Underpinning these initiatives is a focus on optimizing delivery and handling and selling, general and administrative expenses.

During the year ended December 31, 2025, the Company began an expansion into new geographic markets in the Asia Pacific region. The Company formed a wholly owned subsidiary Reed's (Asia) Limited (BVI). Reed's (Asia) Limited subsequently formed five additional wholly owned subsidiaries, Reed's (Hong Kong) Limited, Reed's (Japan) Limited, Jiangzhi Beverage (Hainan) Co. Limited, Reed's Beverages (Singapore) PTE Limited, and Shenshen Jiangzi Beverage Co. Limited. These subsidiaries are an early part of the Company's strategic expansion in the Asia Pacific region. The Company expects continued investment in its Asia Pacific growth initiative. Reed's (Asia) Limited did not generate material sales in the period ended September 30, 2026 or 2025.

Recent Trends – Market Conditions

Although the U.S. economy continues to grow, inflation, actions by the Federal Reserve to address inflation, fluctuations in energy prices, and the potential impacts of tariffs, trade tensions and geopolitical events create uncertainty about the future economic environment which will continue to evolve and may impact our business in future periods. We have experienced supply chain challenges, including increased lead times, as well as inflation of raw materials, logistics and labor costs due to availability constraints and high demand. Although we regularly monitor vendors in our supply chain, and use alternative suppliers when necessary and available, supply chain constraints could cause a disruption in our ability to obtain raw materials required to manufacture our products and adversely affect our operations.

During the nine months ended September 30, 2026, the average cost of shipping and handling was $2.60 per case, as compared to $2.93 per case for the nine months ended September 30, 2025. We have experienced increases in freight costs and there remains a volatile pricing environment, including due to the armed conflict in Iran. We will continue to monitor pricing and availability in transportation and has implemented plans designed to manage this risk. In the past, we have been negatively impacted by supply chain challenges affecting our ability to benefit from strong demand for, and increased sales of our product. Any disruption caused by labor shortages, significant raw material cost inflation, logistics issues, increased freight costs, or port congestion, may adversely impact margins in the future.

Through September 30, 2026, we continued to finance our operations through existing cash balances, cash generated from operations, public and private issuance of common stock, and credit lines from financial institutions. As we seek additional financing, there can be no assurance that such financing will be available to us on favorable terms or at all. Our ability to obtain additional financing in the debt and equity capital markets is subject to several factors, including market and economic conditions, our operating performance and investor sentiment with respect to us and our industry.

(A) We define gross billing as the total sales for the Company unadjusted for costs related to generating those sales. Management utilizes gross billing as an indicator of and to monitor operating performance of products and salespersons before the effect of any promotional or other allowances, which are determined in accordance with U.S. GAAP, and can mask certain performance issues. We believe that the presentation of gross billing provides a useful measure of our operating performance. Additionally, gross billing may not be comparable to similarly titled measures used by other companies, as gross billing has been defined by our internal reporting practices.

(B) We define promotional and other allowances as costs deducted from gross billing that are associated with generating those sales. Management utilizes promotional and other allowances as an indicator of and to monitor operating performance of products, salespersons, and customer agreements. We believe that the presentation of promotional and other allowances provides a useful measure of our operating performance. The presentation of promotional and other allowances facilitates an evaluation of their impact on the determination of net sales and the spending levels incurred or correlated with such sales. The expenditures described in this line item are determined in accordance with U.S. GAAP and meet U.S. GAAP requirements, however the disclosure thereof does not conform to U.S. GAAP presentation requirements. Additionally, our definition of promotional and other allowances may not be comparable to similar items presented by other companies. Promotional and other allowances primarily include consideration given to the Company's distributors or retail customers including, but not limited to the following: (i) reimbursements given to the Company's distributors for agreed portions of their promotional spend with retailers, including slotting, shelf space allowances and other fees for both new and existing products; (ii) the Company's agreed share of fees given to distributors and/or directly to retailers for in-store marketing and promotional activities; (iii) the Company's agreed share of slotting, shelf space allowances and other fees given directly to retailers; (iv) incentives given to the Company's distributors and/or retailers for achieving or exceeding certain predetermined sales goals; and (v) discounted or free products. Promotional and other allowances constitute a material portion of our marketing activities. The Company's promotional allowance programs with its numerous distributors and/or retailers are executed through separate agreements in the ordinary course of business. These agreements generally provide for one or more of the arrangements described above and are of varying durations, ranging from one week to one year.

Sales, Cost of Sales, and Gross Margins

Gross billing decreased by 18% to $7,631 during the three months ended September 30, 2026, compared to $9,279 during the prior year, primarily driven by Reed's volume decline of 6%, and Virgil's volume decline of 27%. Selling expenses consist of all other selling-related expenses including personnel and contractor support. Total selling and marketing expenses were $1,191 during the three months ended September 30, 2026, compared to $1,366 during the prior year. The decrease was primarily driven by continuing efforts to optimize selling and marketing expenses. General and administrative expenses were $2,411 during the three months ended September 30, 2026, a decrease of $450 over the prior year. The decrease was primarily driven by continuing efforts to optimize general and administrative expenses, offset by investments in personnel and related services to support our Asia growth initiative. EBITDA

In addition to our U.S. GAAP results, we present EBITDA as a supplemental measure of our performance. However, EBITDA is not a recognized measurement under U.S. GAAP and should not be considered as an alternative to net income, income from operations or any other performance measure derived in accordance with U.S. GAAP, or as an alternative to cash flow from operating activities as a measure of liquidity. We define EBITDA as net income (loss), plus interest expense, tax expense, and depreciation and amortization.

Management considers our core operating performance to be that which our managers can affect in any particular period through their management of the resources that affect our underlying revenue and profit generating operations during that period. Non-GAAP adjustments to our results prepared in accordance with U.S. GAAP are itemized below. You are encouraged to evaluate these adjustments and the reasons we consider them appropriate for supplemental analysis. In evaluating EBITDA, you should be aware that in the future we may incur expenses that are the same as or similar to some of the adjustments in this presentation. Our presentation of EBITDA should not be construed as an inference that our future results will be unaffected by unusual or non-recurring items.

Set forth below is a reconciliation of net loss to EBITDA for the three months ended September 30, 2026 and 2025:

	Three Months Ended September 30,
	2026	2025
Net loss	$ (3,170)	$ (3,982)
EBITDA adjustments:
Interest expense	207	274
Tax expense	58	37
Depreciation and amortization	30	64
Total EBITDA adjustments	$ 295	$ 375
EBITDA	$ (2,875)	$ (3,607)

We present EBITDA because we believe it assists investors and analysts in comparing our performance across reporting periods on a consistent basis by excluding items that we do not believe are indicative of our core operating performance. In addition, we use EBITDA in developing our internal budgets, forecasts and strategic plan; in analyzing the effectiveness of our business strategies in evaluating potential acquisitions; making compensation decisions; and in communications with our board of directors concerning our financial performance. EBITDA has limitations as an analytical tool, which includes, among others, the following:

- EBITDA does not reflect our cash expenditures, or future requirements, for capital expenditures or contractual commitments;
- EBITDA does not reflect changes in, or cash requirements for, our working capital needs;
- EBITDA does not reflect future interest expense, or the cash requirements necessary to service interest or principal payments, on our debts; and
- Although depreciation and amortization are non-cash charges, the assets being depreciated and amortized will often have to be replaced in the future, and EBITDA does not reflect any cash requirements for such replacements.

(A) We define gross billing as the total sales for the Company unadjusted for costs related to generating those sales. Management utilizes gross billing as an indicator of and to monitor operating performance of products and salespersons before the effect of any promotional or other allowances, which are determined in accordance with GAAP, and can mask certain performance issues. We believe that the presentation of gross billing provides a useful measure of our operating performance. Additionally, gross billing may not be comparable to similarly titled measures used by other companies, as gross billing has been defined by our internal reporting practices.

(B) We define promotional and other allowances as costs deducted from gross billing that are associated with generating those sales. Management utilizes promotional and other allowances as an indicator of and to monitor operating performance of products, salespersons, and customer agreements. We believe that the presentation of promotional and other allowances provides a useful measure of our operating performance. The presentation of promotional and other allowances facilitates an evaluation of their impact on the determination of net sales and the spending levels incurred or correlated with such sales. The expenditures described in this line item are determined in accordance with GAAP and meet GAAP requirements, the disclosure thereof does not conform to GAAP presentation requirements. Additionally, our definition of promotional and other allowances may not be comparable to similar items presented by other companies. Promotional and other allowances primarily include consideration given to the Company's distributors or retail customers including, but not limited to the following: (i) reimbursements given to the Company's distributors for agreed portions of their promotional spend with retailers, including slotting, shelf space allowances and other fees for both new and existing products; (ii) the Company's agreed share of fees given to distributors and/or directly to retailers for in-store marketing and promotional activities; (iii) the Company's agreed share of slotting, shelf space allowances and other fees given directly to retailers; (iv) incentives given to the Company's distributors and/or retailers for achieving or exceeding certain predetermined sales goals; and (v) discounted or free products. Promotional and other allowances constitute a material portion of our marketing activities. The Company's promotional allowance programs with its numerous distributors and/or retailers are executed through separate agreements in the ordinary course of business. These agreements generally provide for one or more of the arrangements described above and are of varying durations, ranging from one week to one year.

EBITDA

In addition to our U.S. GAAP results, we present EBITDA as a supplemental measure of our performance. However, EBITDA is not a recognized measurement under U.S. GAAP and should not be considered as an alternative to net income, income from operations or any other performance measure derived in accordance with U.S. GAAP, or as an alternative to cash flow from operating activities as a measure of liquidity. In evaluating EBITDA, you should be aware that in the future we may incur expenses that are the same as or similar to some of the adjustments in this presentation. Our presentation of EBITDA should not be construed as an inference that our future results will be unaffected by unusual or non-recurring items.

Set forth below is a reconciliation of net loss to EBITDA for the nine months ended September 30, 2026 and 2025:

	Nine Months Ended September 30,

We present EBITDA because we believe it assists investors and analysts in comparing our performance across reporting periods on a consistent basis by excluding items that we do not believe are indicative of our core operating performance. In addition, we use EBITDA in developing our internal budgets, forecasts and strategic plan; in analyzing the effectiveness of our business strategies in evaluating potential acquisitions; making compensation decisions; and in communications with our board of directors concerning our financial performance. - EBITDA does not reflect our cash expenditures, or future requirements, for capital expenditures or contractual commitments;
- EBITDA does not reflect changes in, or cash requirements for, our working capital needs;
- EBITDA does not reflect future interest expense, or the cash requirements necessary to service interest or principal payments, on our debts; and
- Although depreciation and amortization are non-cash charges, the assets being depreciated and amortized will often have to be replaced in the future, and EBITDA does not reflect any cash requirements for such replacements.

Liquidity and Going Concern

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared on a going concern basis, which contemplates the realization of assets and the settlement of liabilities and commitments in the normal course of business. For the nine months ended September 30, 2026, the Company recorded a net loss of $13,907, used cash in operations of $8,329, and as of September 30, 2026, had a stockholders' deficiency of $4,655. As of September 30, 2026, the Company had a cash balance of $2,095, principal amount outstanding on the Senior Secured Loan of $9,250, no remaining availability under the Senior Secured Loan, and a maturity date on the Senior Secured Loan of June 30, 2027.

On September 30, 2026, the Company entered into a Second Amended Loan Agreement (see Note 6 Senior Secured Loan).

On November 6, 2026, the Company entered into a Third Amended Loan Agreement (see Note 6 Senior Secured Loan).

On November 9, 2026, the Company completed a private placement with D&D Source of Life Holding, Ltd. ("D&D"), the Company's majority stockholder (a related party), as sole investor, pursuant to which the Company issued and sold an aggregate of 17,421,602 shares of common stock for total gross proceeds of $10,000 (see Note 13 Subsequent Events).

In accordance with Accounting Standards Codification ("ASC") 205-40, Going Concern, these factors, considered in the aggregate, raise substantial doubt about our ability to continue as a going concern within one year of the date that the financial statements are issued. The financial statements do not include any adjustments related to the recoverability and classification of recorded asset amounts or the amounts and classification of liabilities that might be necessary should we be unable to continue as a going concern.

Historically, we have financed our operations through existing cash balances, cash generated from operations, public and private issuance of common stock, preferred stock, convertible debt instruments, term loans and credit lines from financial institutions.

To alleviate any funding considerations, management periodically evaluates various funding alternatives and may seek to raise additional funds through the issuance of equity, mezzanine or debt securities, through arrangements with strategic partners, strategic transactions, or through obtaining credit from financial institutions. As we seek additional sources of financing, there can be no assurance that such financing will be available to us on favorable terms or at all. Our ability to obtain additional financing in the debt and equity capital markets is subject to several factors, including market and economic conditions, our performance and investor sentiment with respect to us and our industry.

We are also continuing to take actions to improve our operating performance and cash generated from operations, including product portfolio optimization, implementing strategies to achieve profitable sales growth, streamlining operations, improving supply chains, negotiating equitable vendor contracts, and managing product price architecture. However, we may be unsuccessful in executing these actions in a timely manner or at all.

If we are unable to raise additional capital whenever necessary or otherwise improve our operating performance or generation of cash from operations, we may be forced to decelerate or curtail certain of our operations until such time as additional capital becomes available.

Cash Flows

Net cash used in operating activities totaled $8,329 for the nine months ended September 30, 2026, compared to $13,230 for the nine months ended September 30, 2025. The decrease in net cash used in operating activities was primarily driven by lower working capital, partially offset by investment in strategic growth initiatives.

Net cash used in investing activities totaled $0 for the nine months ended September 30, 2026, compared to $172 for the nine months ended September 30, 2025. The decrease in net cash used in investing activities was primarily driven by no purchases of property and equipment.

Net cash provided by financing activities totaled $0 for the nine months ended September 30, 2026, compared to $7,147 for the nine months ended September 30, 2025. The decrease in net cash provided by financing activities was primarily driven by no proceeds from the sale of common shares.

Critical Accounting Policies and Estimates

The preparation of the Company's financial statements in conformity with U.S. GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of expenses during the reporting period. Some of those judgments can be subjective and complex, and therefore, actual results could differ materially from those estimates under different assumptions or conditions. Management bases its estimates on historical experience and on various assumptions that are believed to be reasonable in relation to the financial statements taken as a whole under the circumstances, the results of which form the basis for making judgments about the carrying values of assets and liabilities that are not readily apparent from other sources. Management regularly evaluates the key factors and assumptions used to develop the estimates utilizing currently available information, changes in facts and circumstances, historical experience and reasonable assumptions. After such evaluations, if deemed appropriate, those estimates are adjusted accordingly. Actual results could differ from those estimates. Significant estimates include those related to assumptions used in estimates for reserves of uncollectible accounts, inventory obsolescence, depreciable lives of property and equipment, analysis of impairments of recorded long-term tangible and intangible assets, realization of deferred tax assets, accruals for potential liabilities and assumptions made in valuing stock instruments issued for services. There were no changes to our critical accounting policies described in the consolidated financial statements included in our 2025 Form 10-K that impacted our condensed financial statements and related notes included herein.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

See Note 2 of the Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements included elsewhere in this Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for a discussion of recent accounting pronouncements.

Item 3. Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures About Market Risk

A smaller reporting company is not required to provide the information required by this Item.

Item 4. Controls and Procedures

Evaluation of Disclosure Controls and Procedures

Under the supervision and with the participation of our management, including our Chief Executive Officer and our Chief Financial Officer, we conducted an evaluation of our disclosure controls and procedures (as defined in Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the "Exchange Act"). Based on this evaluation, our Chief Executive Officer and our Chief Financial Officer concluded that the Company's disclosure controls and procedures were effective as of September 30, 2026, to provide reasonable assurance that information required to be disclosed in the reports that we file or submit under the Exchange Act is recorded, processed, summarized and reported within the time periods specified in the SEC's rules and forms, and that such information is accumulated and communicated to our management, including our Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, as appropriate, to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosures.

Changes in Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

There have been no changes in the Company's internal control over financial reporting during the nine months ended September 30, 2026 that have materially affected, or are reasonably likely to materially affect, the Company's internal control over financial reporting.

PART II – OTHER INFORMATION

Item 1. Legal Proceedings

We are party to ordinary, routine litigation incidental to our business, including routine litigation matters tendered to our insurance carriers. Our management evaluates our exposure to these claims and proceedings individually and in the aggregate and provides for potential losses on such litigation if the amount of the loss is estimable and the loss is probable. Although the results of such routine litigation matters and claims cannot be predicted with certainty, we believe that the final outcome of such routine litigation and claims will not have a material adverse impact on our financial position, liquidity, or results of operations.

Item 1A. Risk Factors

Except as set forth below, there have been no material changes with respect to the risk factors disclosed in our 2025 Form 10-K.

Our current indebtedness contains, and any future indebtedness may contain, restrictions on our business. We have historically had negative cash flow from operating activities, and continued losses could have a material negative effect on our business and prospects and impact our ability to continue as a going concern. If we are unable to secure additional financing on favorable terms, or at all, when we require it, our ability to continue to grow our business or react to market conditions could be impaired and in turn adversely affect our financial position and results of operations.

As of September 30, 2026, we had an accumulated deficit of $181.6 million and a cash balance of $2.1 million. For the nine months ended September 30, 2026, we recorded a net loss of $13.9 million, used cash in operations of $8.3 million, and as of September 30, 2026, had a stockholders' deficiency of $4.7 million. In addition, as of September 30, 2026, the principal amount outstanding on our Senior Secured Loan with the Lenders was approximately $9.3 million, with no remaining availability under such Senior Secured Loan, and a maturity date on the Senior Secured Loan of June 30, 2027. Our cash flow and net losses for the nine months ended September 30, 2026 are indicators that raise substantial doubt about our ability to continue as a going concern for at least one year from the date the accompanying financial statements to this Quarterly Report are issued. If we become unable to continue as a going concern, we may have to curtail or suspend our operations and/or dispose of assets and might realize significantly less than the values at which they are carried on its consolidated financial statements. These actions may cause our stockholders to lose all or part of their investment in our common stock.

We intend to continue to expand, grow and develop our business, which may require additional capital to develop new products, enhance our platform, expand distribution, improve our operating infrastructure, react to market conditions and finance working capital requirements. Accordingly, we may need to engage in additional equity or debt financings to secure additional capital. If we raise additional funds through future issuances of equity or convertible debt securities, our existing stockholders could suffer significant dilution, and any new equity securities we issue could have rights, preferences and privileges superior to those of holders of our common stock.

Our current and future indebtedness, including the Senior Secured Loan, may have significant negative effects on our operations, including:

- impairing our ability to obtain additional financing in the future (or to obtain such financing on acceptable terms) for working capital, capital expenditures, acquisitions or other important needs, and subjecting us to other restrictive covenants that may reduce our ability to take certain corporate actions;

- requiring us to dedicate a portion of our cash resources to the payment of interest and principal, reducing money available to fund working capital, capital expenditures, potential acquisitions, international expansion, new product development, new enterprise relationships and other general corporate purposes;

- requiring us to repay the principal and accrued interest on the Senior Secured Loan in an event of default under the covenants thereof, which could impair our liquidity and reduce the availability of our cash flow to fund working capital, capital expenditures, acquisitions and other important needs;

- limiting our ability to adjust to rapidly changing conditions in the industry, reducing our ability to withstand competitive pressures and making us more vulnerable to a downturn in general economic conditions or business than our competitors with relatively lower levels of debt; and

- requiring us, in certain circumstances, to obtain approval from Whitebox Advisors, LLC and/or the lenders party to the Loan Agreement before embarking on certain mergers, acquisitions, capital expenditures, or other operational actions.

We intend to satisfy our current and future debt service obligations with our then existing cash and cash equivalents. However, we may not have sufficient funds, and may be unable to arrange for additional financing, to pay the amounts due under the Senior Secured Loan or any other debt instruments. In addition, the Senior Secured Loan contains, and the agreements governing our future indebtedness may contain, restrictive covenants that may limit our ability to engage in activities that may be in our long-term best interest. These restrictive covenants include, among others, limitations on indebtedness, liens, mergers, consolidations, liquidations and dissolutions, sales of assets, investments (including acquisitions), dividends and other restricted payments and transactions with affiliates. Our failure to make payments under or comply with other covenants contained in the documents governing our indebtedness could result in an event of default which, if not cured or waived, could result in the acceleration of substantially all of our debt and potentially the foreclosure on our assets in the event we are unable to repay all amounts owed.

If we are unable to secure additional funding on favorable terms, or at all, when we require it, our ability to continue to grow our business to react to market conditions could be impaired, which would adversely affect our financial position and results of operations.

We have failed, and may in the future fail, to meet the continued listing requirements of NYSE American, which could result in a de-listing of our common stock.

We may fail to satisfy the continued listing requirements of NYSE American LLC ("NYSE American"), such as the corporate governance requirements or the minimum stock price and stockholders' equity requirements, and NYSE American may take steps to de-list our common stock. For example, numerous factors, such as negative financial or operational results, could adversely affect the market price of our common stock and our stockholders' equity, and jeopardize our ability to meet or maintain NYSE American's continued listing requirements, resulting in de-listing. On May 29, 2026, we received a notice (the "May 2026 Notice") from NYSE American stating that we are not in compliance with the continued listing standards set forth in Section 1003(a)(ii) of the NYSE American Company Guide (the "Company Guide"), which requires a company to have stockholders' equity of at least $4.0 million if it has reported losses from continuing operations and/or net losses in three of its four most recent fiscal years, and Section 1003(a)(iii) of the Company Guide, which requires a company to have stockholders' equity of at least $6.0 million if it has reported losses from continuing operations and/or net losses in its five most recent fiscal years. The Notice also indicated that we are not currently eligible for any exemption under Section 1003(a) of the Company Guide, including the exemption available to companies with a total market capitalization exceeding $50 million, among other requirements.

Additionally, on August 12, 2026, we receive a notice (the "August 2026 Notice" and together with the May 2026 Notice, the "Notices") from NYSE American stating that we are not in compliance with the NYSE American continued listing standards set forth in Section 1003(a)(i) of the Company Guide requiring the company to have a stockholders' equity of at least $20.0 million if it has reported losses from continuing operations and/or net losses in two of its three most recent fiscal years. The August 2026 Notice also indicated that we are not currently eligible for any exemption in Section 1003(a) of the Company Guide (including the exemption provided for companies with total value of market capitalization exceeding $50 million, among other requirements).

The Notices have no immediate effect on the listing of our common stock, which continues to be listed and traded on NYSE American under the symbol "REED," subject to our compliance with NYSE American's other continued listing requirements, although our common stock now carries an added designation of ".BC" to indicate that our status is "below compliance." The Notices do not affect our ongoing business operations or our reporting requirements with the SEC.

In connection with this non-compliance, we submitted a plan (the "Plan") to NYSE American on June 26, 2026 describing the actions we have taken or will take to regain compliance with the continued listing standards by November 29, 2027. On August 12, 2026, NYSE American determined to accept the Plan, and we will be subject to periodic reviews, including quarterly monitoring for compliance with the Plan. If we are not in compliance with continued listing standards by November 29, 2027, or if we fail to make progress consistent with the Plan, NYSE American will initiate delisting proceedings as appropriate, subject to our right to appeal any staff delisting determination in accordance with Section 1010 and Part 12 of the Company Guide.

We are committed to regaining compliance with NYSE American's continued listing standards. Pursuant to the Plan, we intent to regain compliance with the NYSE American continued listing standards by November 29, 2027. However, there can be no assurance that we will regain or maintain compliance with NYSE American's continued listing requirements within the required timeframe or at all.

In the event of a de-listing, we may attempt to take actions to restore our compliance with the NYSE American listing requirements, but we can provide no assurance that any such action would allow our common stock to become re-listed, stabilize the market price or improve the liquidity of our common stock, or prevent future non-compliance with the NYSE American listing requirements. If our common stock is delisted from NYSE American, we and our stockholders could face significant material adverse consequences, including limited availability of market quotations for our common stock, reduced liquidity, a determination that our common stock is a "penny stock" subject to additional regulatory burdens, limited news and analyst coverage, and a decreased ability to issue additional securities or obtain additional financing in the future.
